Josh Wilson appointed Coffee County District Judge

Attorney, Josh Wilson, has been appointed by Governor Kay Ivey as District Judge in Coffee County effective immediately.

Judge Wilson has served as an Assistant District Attorney for the 12th Judicial Circuit for the past six years.

"I am so thankful for the confidence that Governor Ivey has in me to serve Coffee County as District Judge, and I appreciate very much her support," he said. "It is both a privilege and an honor to serve."

Judge Wilson was born and raised in the New Hope community in northern Coffee County, and now makes his home in Elba, with his wife of eighteen years, Jill Martin Wilson, and their two sons John Martin (16) and Jay (11).

Judge Wilson attended Troy State University and graduated with a degree in accounting and a Master's degree in business administration. He became a Certified Public Accountant and practiced in both public accounting and the private industry before returning to law school to obtain his Juris Doctorate. "I enjoyed my time working as a CPA and the experiences that I gained were invaluable, but a law degree and the opportunity to practice law was something that I always wanted," Wilson said. "There were many sacrifices that my family had to make so that I could attend law school, and I would have never made it without the support of my wife Jill."

Judge Wilson attended

Faulkner University's Jones School of Law and graduated in two and a half years. After finishing law school Judge Wilson opened a law office in Elba and practiced there before joining the District Attorney's Office in 2013.

"I've always had a servant's heart, and I'm thankful that Tom Anderson (District Attorney) gave me a chance to work in his office and serve the people of our Circuit. Coffee County has always been home, and always will be," he said.

"The chance to give back to so many who have helped me along my way is the greatest way to honor them. As District Judge I will maintain the same dedication to serving the people of Coffee County as I have as an Assistant District Attorney and will bring honesty and fairness to the bench."

Judge Wilson was appointed Thursday, Aug. 15, as District Judge by Governor Ivey, and he will immediately take the bench.

Emergency responders, including the Elba Fire Department, were dispatched to the scene of this single vehicle accident Monday, Aug. 19, just before noon. The vehicle reportedly left the roadway and traveled several hundred feet before hitting a tree. EMS officials were checking the driver of the vehicle at the time this photo was taken but the injuries the driver sustained did not appear to be serious.

After scare when students fell ill from elevated CO levels Multiple checks by officials reveal no levels of carbon monoxide at New Brockton High School

by Linda Hodge, Editor

New Brockton Schools were closed Friday, Aug. 16, after four students became ill last Thursday from elevated levels of carbon monoxide.

Coffee County EMA director James Brown said the school system exercised extreme caution Friday to ensure the upmost safety of the New Brockton students by closing both the high school and elementary schools.

"Yesterday afternoon [Thursday, Aug. 15] four students showed signs of headache, dizziness, and nausea during gym class," Brown said. "It was originally thought to be signs of heat stress. As a precaution they were transported to Enterprise Medical Center where it was discovered they had elevated levels of carbon monoxide."

At that point, Brown said all students were immediately evacuated from the gymnasium and a sweep was made to check for elevated levels of carbon monoxide. He said none were discovered and other areas of the school were then evaluated again with nothing discovered. "Last night [Thursday] four more New Brockton High School students showed up in the emergency room showing similar signs and increased carbon monoxide levels," Brown said.

"If a problem had been found, we would have addressed the issue and moved to have it resolved," Coffee County Schools Superintendent Kevin Killingsworth said. "I have asked multiple agencies that assisted us if there is anything else that could be done to ensure our students and staff members' safety. The agencies concur that we have exhausted all resources at our disposal, and there is no reason that the school should remain closed."

Brown said officials did not think the exposure to carbon monoxide happened at the school. However, he said the EMA office would continue to provide updates if something different is discovered.

"We have invited the Alabama Department of Public Health in to help us complete interviews with students and parents to see if we can find a commonality between these affected students," Brown said. "If any parent or student shows signs of dizziness, nausea, and headache please contact your health authority and inform the school. We place the highest priority on the health and protection of our students and will do everything we can to discover where these students may have been exposed to carbon monoxide."

On Monday, Aug. 19, Coffee County Schools Superintendent Kevin Killingsworth said New Brockton High School was checked again over the weekend and twice Monday morning by four different agencies [New Brockton Fire Dept., Coffee County EMA, Ft. Rucker Fire Dept., and Enterprise Fire/Rescue]. He said those checks, just as the ones last week, produced no levels of carbon monoxide.

"Members of my staff and I met with officials with the Alabama State Fire Marshal's Office and the Alabama Department of Public Health this morning [Mon-

Elba High School E-Club looking for new members

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba High School E-Club, the booster organization for the school's athletic programs, held a meeting Tuesday night, Aug. 13, in the high school commons area, and had several items to discuss with the football season almost here.

Club president Heather Coppage said the organization is currently accepting memberships for the 2019-

2020 school year. She said letters were included in mailings that went out to reserved seat holders for football, but the letter did not get to other supporters that may be interested in joining the E-Club.

"Our goal is to support athletic programs, the athletes, and promote fellowship, communications, and the fostering of school spirit among parents, players, coaches and the Elba community," Coppage said of the E-Club. "100 percent of your donation goes directly to supporting athletic activities and needs that contribute to the overall spirit of Elba High School."

The annual membership to the E-Club is $30 per person or $50 per family (2 persons), and members receive an E-Club shirt for joining. Sports included are football, volleyball, baseball, boys and girls' basketball, and softball.

A big event for the E-Club coming up Thursday, Aug. 22, at 6:30 p.m. in the gym. All Tiger fans invited to attend!

"The smaller the mind the greater the conceit." — Aesop

You probably didn't know: 35,000 is the approximate number of fireflies (or lightening bugs in our Southern lingo) it takes to generate the same amount of light as a 100-watt lightbulb. The purpose of the firefly light is to attract a mate. Lightening bugs just aren't around as we remember them being "back when." It has been cons since we saw a youngster out in the early evening catching them and putting them in a mason jar. Well actually it has been cons since we even saw one of them winking at us in the early evening. Now days our interaction with the lightening bugs is only in our childhood memories and through nostalgic reading of things like the Robert Frost's words in "Fireflies in the Garden": "Here come real stars to fill the upper skies, And here on earth come emulating flies."

In the U. S. we get all sweaty over immigrants of any ilk while the British government announces aggressive Fast Track Visa Plan for top researchers. News reports indicate the new British prime minister has instructed his folks to work on a fast-track visa program to be launched later this year, in a bid to attract more top scientists to the British Isles. The Brits are working to shore up their brainpower reserves, the Germans continue to leave us behind in percentage of their production that is exported, etc. Maybe we should consider emulating the mindset of others rather than acting insulted when someone indicates that America is NOT number one in everything. Admitting you don't have all the answers is the first step to improving.

The emotions are running high around Mobile over a new ten mile long Intestate 10 bridge rising 215 foot above the water. The public backlash came after announcements of possible $6.00 one-way tolls. That would be $12.00 daily for Baldwin County citizens who work in Mobile. We have read the back-and-forth debates and wondered, "Why do they need such a high structure (costing $2.1 billion) that far upstream in the Mobile Bay/River area?" Well someone has finally openly voiced that question. State Senator Elliott of Fairhope has been asking that question for several days. The original idea apparently came several years ago with long range ideas of massive cruise ships docking above the bridge area. Well, Mobile's track record with cruise ships of any size is not good. They have trouble keeping one of the smaller pleasure boats working from their existing docks. Without a pot of gold dropping out of the sky, we suspect redesigns will be on the drawing board within the next couple of months. This debate will escalate until the October 7th meeting of the Alabama Toll Road, Bridge and Tunnel Authority which is charged with making the big decisions on toll road construction in Alabama. Meanwhile some state lawmakers are proposing a constitutional amendment to prevent any tolls on Interstate roads.

Friday, August 23rd will be the wedding anniversary for 'Yea Ole Publisher' and his bride of 56 years. It was also a Friday in 1963 and our granddaddy had been urged to 'keep it short and sweet', but no Primitive Baptist minister understands those words. It was noontime and the sweat beaded up on our forehead. We can still see the clock behind granddaddy's head as the hands neared the midday mark and bonged twelve times. Clearly his words and references to God stuck for Heddy and this unworthy, but grateful, soul. Now 56 years and three children later, we are closer today than we were that day, last year or yesterday. Tomorrow will be even better.

Education Matters

By: Larry Lee

Senate majority leader Del Marsh wants to control public education in Alabama. Yep, the same guy who has shown us repeatedly that he is clueless about how schools really work, what their challenges are and how best to address them, wants to hand pick members of the state school board.

On March 3, 2020 voters in Alabama will say YES or NO to a constitutional amendment to do away with the elected state board of education and replace it with one where the governor appoints nine board members who must then be confirmed by the state senate. The senate Marsh rules with an iron fist. Never doubt that under this proposal no one would serve on the state school board without Marsh's approval.

Based on his track record since becoming majority leader in 2011, this is a scary thought.

The state charter school commission in an appointed board. The governor, Lt. governor, speaker of the house and senate majority leader nominate people to serve. The state school board makes the final selections. This was done on Aug. 8.

Look at Marsh's nominees. He had two slots to fill.

Marsh nominated former House of Representatives member, Jamie Ison of Mobile. His other recommendation for the same position was a young lady from Mobile who had been nominated twice before, but not selected. She worked for charter schools in Houston and Atlanta and had a relationship with Teach for America. No doubt she is a fine person, but with this kind of background, how objective could she be? Her nomination says Marsh was trying to stack the deck.

Jamie Ison was chosen. The majority leader submitted two names for his other slot. One was incumbent Henry Nelson of Birmingham who has been on the commission since it was created. The other recommendation was a Birmingham businessman who was the founding board chair for Legacy Prep charter in Birmingham. This screams of conflict of interest since charters must be reauthorized every five years by the charter commission. Again, a questionable choice by Marsh.

Nelson was picked to retain his seat.

And we want to let Del Marsh tell us who will oversee public education in Alabama? Can we expect him to look for people who really are objective and have some understanding of the challenges our public schools face--or people already beholden to his agenda which has been anything but beneficial for public schools?

Since rising to power in 2011, Marsh's signature legislation is no doubt the Alabama Accountability Act of 2013. The bill that went to conference committee as one thing--and came out as something entirely different? The bill that no one in education knew about because Marsh said, "They might be against it."

The bill that has sucked money out of every public school classroom in the state to the tune of $145 million at last count. The bill that promised to help poor kids stuck in struggling schools by their zip code, though six years later such students are damn near impossible to find, especially in the Black Belt.

And he should hand pick state school board members?

Marsh is the most powerful legislator in the state. He is at the top of the fund-raising food chain. Political action committees curry his favor with donations, lots and lots of donations. In the election cycle that ran from October 2017 to the end of 2018, Marsh raised $893,000. Alabama realtors gave $50,000, retailers gave $45,000, automobile dealers gave $47,500, Poarch Band of Creek Indians chipped in $30,000; the medical association gave $30,000.

Who among these groups that fuel Marsh's political machine know anything about public schools? Who among them will challenge him on who he wants on the state school board?

Del Marsh is a smart man and a helluva politician. He is in a position to do things for our schools that would be meaningful and have lasting impact. But for reasons I don't understand, as his track record shows, he chooses a different path.

So long as he insists on doing so, he does not need to hand pick state school board members.

Larry Lee is a public-school advocate and co-author of the study, Lessons Learned From Rural Schools. He is a former member of the Montgomery County school board. Larrylee133@gmail.com day], Killingsworth said. "After discussing all of the steps we have taken to ensure that New Brockton High School is safe, the agencies are too in agreement that our school is safe for students and staff. We have done our due diligence to make sure that our students and staff are safe and there are no threats of carbon monoxide."

Despite concerns the superintendent said he realizes were circulating on social media, he said he and his staff take the safety of the students and faculty very seriously and would not knowingly put anyone in harm's way.

"If a problem had been found, we would have addressed the issue and moved to have it resolved," Killingsworth said. "I have asked multiple agencies that assisted us if there is anything else that could be done to ensure our students and staff members' safety. The agencies concur that we have exhausted all resources at our disposal, and there is no reason that the school should remain closed."

Killingsworth thanked the agencies that assisted the Coffee County School System through this matter, including: Coffee County EMA, Coffee County Sheriff's Dept., New Brockton Police Dept., Ft. Rucker Fire Dept., Southeast Gas, Enterprise Fire Dept., the Alabama Dept. of Public Health, the State Fire Marshal's Office, along with the administration and staff of New Brockton High School and all central office administrators.

Public Health's website at <http://www.alabamapublichealth.gov/vitalrecords/marriage-certificates.html>. The department's website will include instructions for completing and filing the new form, as well as answers to some frequently asked questions (FAQs) about the marriage law.

County probate courts may also elect to post a link to the form on their own websites or have printed copies of the new form available at their offices. A recording fee established by each county probate court must be paid to the court at the time the form is presented for recording.

For answers to your questions, consult the FAQs and the instructions for completing the marriage certificate form at <http://www.alabamapublichealth.gov/vitalrecords/marriage-certificates.html>. An Attorney General's Opinion regarding the new law is pending, and the department will update the FAQs when that opinion is released.

IN HONOR AND REMEMBRANCE OF OUR SISTER, FRANCES ENNIS JACOBS

It is with sadness but peace as we approach the one year anniversary (8/27) of her passing to a perfect life. No doubt our brother Wayne said when she arrived, "well, hey sister."

We remember her generous serving spirit, especially the food she prepared and shared with most everyone in and around Elba, AL. and to us every time we were together. The table is missing her delicious meals/dishes. Her "library" of cookbooks (always looking for new recipes) is treasured by her family.

Her caring example lives on!

and coming together to pray for our schools at the annual Prayer Walk is a combined effort that can only have a positive effect on our local schools."

All church denominations are encouraged to participate as individuals join together in praying for the school leaders, teachers, and children at the school of choice.

Those participating can walk around the schools praying, and some such as Elba City Schools, school administrators will open the doors to the schools to allow those participating in the Prayer Walk to walk and pray throughout the entire building.

"My daughters and I are all alumni of Elba City Schools, and we participate in the Prayer Walk each year because we believe in the power of prayer, and we want our schools to be sheltered by prayer from the community," Hodge said. "While we choose Elba City Schools to be our place of participation, we pray for the same for all the schools in this entire county. We want this school year and all to be safe and educational for all children, teachers and administrators all across Coffee County. Please, if you are a Christian, take 30 minutes out of your afternoon Sunday and go to the school of your choice and join us in praying for our schools."

SEVERAL MEMBERS OF THE ELBA HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1965 GATHERED THURSDAY, AUG. 15, FOR LUNCH AT THE RABBIT HOLE in downtown Elba. The classmates enjoyed a meal together, but most of all, they enjoyed talking and reminiscing with one another. The group also heard from Linda Hodge, president of the Elba High School Alumni Association, during their gathering. She updated this group of alumni on several projects the association has assisted Elba City Schools with since it was started approximately five years ago. Hodge also led the group know that Homecoming this year is set for Oct. 18th and the Elba High School Alumni Association will host a membership meeting that day at the high school and a golf tournament on Saturday, Oct. 19th. Hodge said membership dues and the golf tournament are the main sources of funding that allows the alumni association to be able to help the Elba schools meet needs, as well as, funding scholarships each year to two graduating seniors. She encouraged the class members to consider joining the alumni association if they already were not members. The class members in attendance for last week's gathering included: (seated, l to r) Glenda Marler, Linda Thomas Smith, Catherine Bowden Young, Ronnie Vaughan, Reda Harrison Bruce, Jimmy Bryan, and Buddy Bowers; (standing, l to r) Ronnie Danford, Sheila Smith Danford, Janice Holley Strickland, Margaret Bryan Powell, Kathryn Kelley King, Jane Head Gunter, Earnestine Kelley Morgan, and Jesse Lee.; and (not pictured) Gloria Nelson Jinright.

Food Safety Course to be held at Coffee County Extension

The Alabama Cooperative Extension System is conducting a Food Safety Training Course on the Alabama Cottage Food Law.

Participants also will learn how to recognize labeling requirements and understand basic food safety practices. Participants who pass the course will be given a certificate.

The Alabama Cottage Food Law Course will be held Wednesday, Sept. 11, from 1:30-3:00 p.m. at the Coffee County Extension Office, located at 1055 E. McKinnon Street in New Brockton. The cost of the course is $25 per person.

Reflections: No Exit

WRITTEN BY MICHAEL J. BROOKS

Years ago students had to relocate to attend theological seminary. I often joke that when I was young, we had seminaries to attend, not just click on! The rise of Internet study has dramatically changed modern education. Nevertheless, my new bride and I packed up and moved to Louisville, our home for the next three years.

I had many wonderful teachers and classes and am grateful for this opportunity. But one of the most vivid memories I have is of a class the name of which I cannot recall and a professor whose name I cannot recall. I suppose I found the material of little value except for one exercise.

The professor listed a "no exit" relationship in the syllabus but said nothing more about it until the day in class he asked us to pair up with someone sitting nearby. Then he announced, "This is your 'no exit' relationship partner for the next six weeks."

Our instructions were to meet weekly for at least an hour and talk. My partner worked in the cafeteria, so we met there for the next few weeks to converse. I soon discovered she was an angry person who had real issues with the church—strange since both she and her husband were enrolled in seminary and served a church near ours. I grew weary of her criticisms and would have ended our discussions, but we were bound by the class rules. After week four or five she revealed how she'd been hurt as a young person in her church by some leaders who were poor examples and did some unkind things; hence, her disappointment with the organized church. I think I became less judgmental.

The next class day after week six our professor became a prophet.

"Many of you experienced conflict and would have ended the relationship had you been allowed to," he said.

I thought he had been eavesdropping at our table!

Then our professor explained how so much of life is like this: we meet and enjoy relationships until there is conflict, then we choose to back away. This happens in marriages, at work and at church. He said we ought to declare to our future congregations that we're in "no exit" relationships and pledge our love for one another even when we disagree.

Over the years I've seen the wisdom of his exhortation. Most congregations include people who've exited relationships with brothers and sisters in Christ. Sometimes they flee to other churches and sometimes they just give up and stay home. There is a more excellent way. The Apostle Paul wrote, "Always pursue what is good for one another," and "be at peace among yourselves" (1 Thessalonians 5: 13, 15).

Reflections is a weekly devotional column written by Michael J. Brooks, pastor of the Siluria Baptist Church in Alabaster, Ala. The church's website is siluriabaptist.com.

* The Test No One Wants to Take

How do you feel about taking tests? Some people enjoy tests, seeing them as an opportunity to prove their proficiency or expertise. Others agonize over approaching tests to the point of suffering paralysis or panic. Most of us fall somewhere between those two extremes.

There is one test, however, that we are certain no one wants to take. It is "The Job test." Even though James 1:2, 3 tells us to consider testing a joyful experience and even though James 5:11 holds Job up as a model, most Christians look at Job's trials and hope they are never tested with such an intensely unpleasant experience.

But what would happen if Christians today faced real persecution? What if you lost what Job lost? It is difficult to even think about what Job experienced. Yet, there are lessons for us to learn from Job's experience. As you read and learn, question the depth of your faith and trust in God. Are you ready to be tested?

Question / Answer Section Q/A for the Week of 8/22/19

Q: According to the Psalmist, what is above the heavens?

A: God's glory is above the heavens. [Read Psalm 113: 4] to fans.

This time also will serve as a community pep rally to kickoff the 2019 football season for Elba.

FROM THE HALLS OF ELBA HIGH TO THE HALLS OF THE WHITE HOUSE EHS alum LeRay Smedley offers inspiration to students

Elba High School students enjoyed an inspirational message Thursday afternoon, Aug. 15, from one of their own – alumnus LeRay Smedley, who currently works for President Donald Trump at the White House in Washington, D.C.

Smedley said his proud native of Elba, Ala., having graduated from Elba High School in the late 1990's. After another recent speaking engagement in his hometown, Elba High School principal Wynn Grimes said Smedley was asked to come and speak to the student body at his alma mater, and he gladly accepted that invitation.

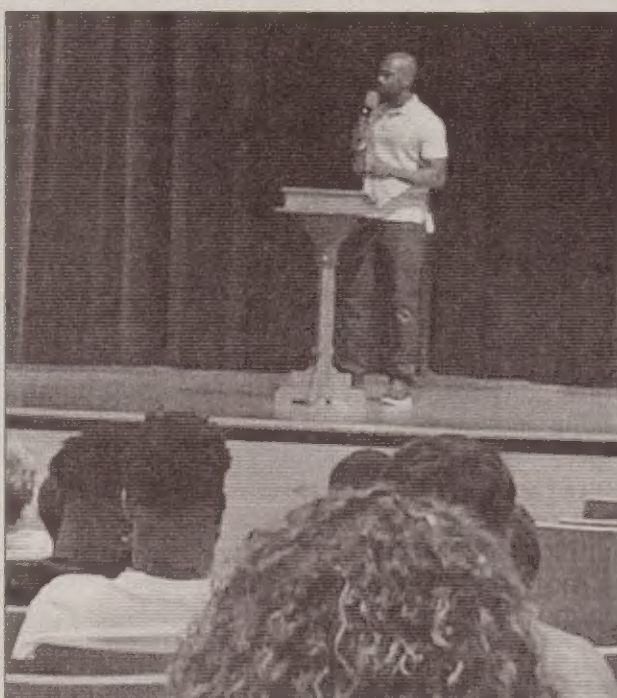

Smedley currently serves as the Presidential Communications Officer Program Manager and the supervisor of network operations in support of the President, Vice President, and the First Lady of the United States. He manages 100 technicians who are responsible for recreating the White House environment around the globe.

"We asked LeRay to come and give an inspirational speech for our students," Grimes said. "With it being early in the school year and LeRay being 'home' it was a perfect opportunity for our current students to hear from a former Elba student that has excelled in his professional career."

Grimes said Smedley is a perfect example of a small-town guy that pursued his dreams and has done extremely well.

"Our kids really enjoyed his speech," Grimes said. "Sometimes it is difficult to engage teenagers for a speaker, but LeRay had their full attention the entire time. I think it was even more intriguing to them that he was someone that used to sit exactly where they were sitting, but now gets to work for the President of the United States in the White House. An Elba guy that has flown in Air Force One, Air Force Two and experience so much. The students loved his story."

Grimes said many of the students went up to Smedley following his presentation just so they could meet him personally and shake his hand. As principal and an alumnus himself of Elba, he said that was a special moment for him.

"LeRay shared a favorite quote of his that really stood out to me," Grimes said. "He said 'It doesn't matter what kind of shoes you have on if you're going in the wrong direction.' I really thought that said a lot, and hopefully registered with many of our current students."

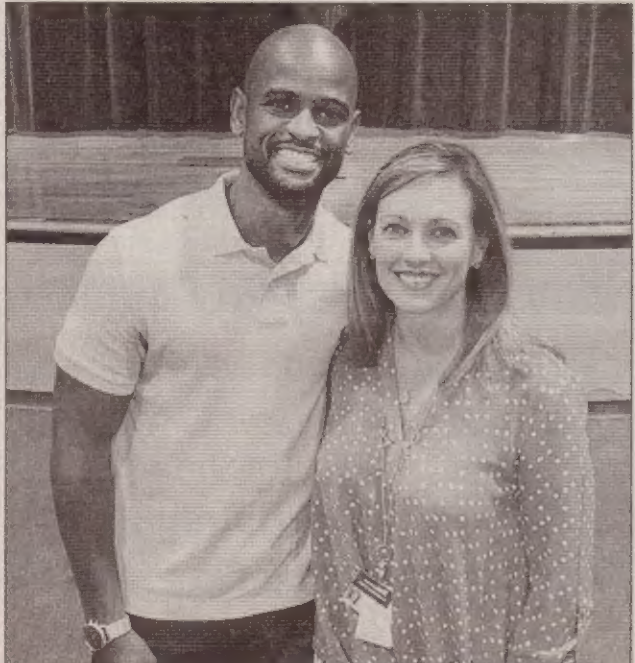

Smedley holds a Master's degree in business administration, a Master's degree in information security, a Bachelor's degree in computer information systems, and he holds several information technology industry level certifications. He was awarded the Department of Defense Spirit of Hope award in 2011 and went on to receive the Presidential Volunteer Service award in 2012. He was selected as the White House Communication's Agency Member of the Year in 2017.

Smedley also was recognized in 2017 as the Alumni of the Year at the University of North Alabama. In 2018, he was selected as a member of the College of Arts and Sciences Advisory Council.

When he is not occupied with his duties at the White House, Smedley champions equal opportunity, advocates for higher education and espouses diversity in leadership across institutions, businesses and local communities. Also, for the past six years, he has served as ministry leader at Second Calvary Baptist Church, where he leads Young Adult Worship Services.

Smedley said he credits his faith in God for his accomplishments in life.

LeRay Smedley catches up with his Elba High classmate Destiny (Brown) Hudson after speaking to students last Thursday afternoon.

Elba High School principal Wynn Grimes is shown working in his office Tuesday morning at Elba High School. In his 25th year as an educator and second as principal, Grimes said it is a 'dream job' for him to be principal of his Alma Mater.

Elba High School principal Wynn Grimes says he is excited about new school year Sitting at his desk Tuesday morning, Aug. 20, at Elba High School, principal Wynn Grimes said two weeks in to the 2019-2020 school year that it had been a really good start at Elba. "I think our kids and teachers are getting settled into the routine of things and getting acclimated to the new year," Grimes said. "As principal, I could not have expected a better start to the new school year."

He said teachers are arriving each day enthusiastic about the day ahead, and that is something a principal wants to see from his teachers. He said it is a good sign that the staff is happy with their work.

Elba High School only had a couple of new teachers for the start of the school year, and Grimes said those new staffers also have settled in nicely and seem to fit well with the Elba High School atmosphere.

Looking ahead, Grimes said the goal for Elba High School this year will be to, "strive to improve in academics."

"Always improving is our main focus," Grimes said. "We want to excel in academics, improve on ACT scores and do well on our State Report Card. If we do these things, we know we are headed in the right direction."

This is Grimes' 25th year in education at Elba City

Schools and his second as principal of the high school, and he said it definitely had been a busy but good start.

"This is a dream job for me with me being an alum of Elba High School," Grimes said. "I have thoroughly enjoyed being principal, and I couldn't ask for anything better."

With a chuckle, however, he added, "I definitely learn some new every day."

Tuttle wins first at karate competition

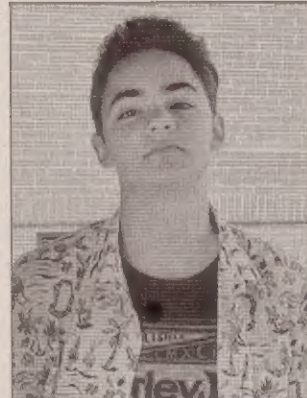

by Emilie and Emilia Stokes

At the end of May, Ethan Tuttle, a junior from Zion Chapel, won 1st place in the Gulf Coast Martial Arts Championship held in Crestview, Florida.

Tuttle started karate in July of 2017 at Mojukai Martial Arts Traditional Karate after his mother had the idea that he should join the dojo. Since then, he has achieved the 9th kyu, also known as a yellow belt with two out of three possible stripes.

During the championships, with his mother cheering him on, he faced four opponents. After, Tuttle walked away with slight bruising and a somewhat swollen shin, but he received a trophy for placing first.

For the future, Tuttle imagines himself doing three more years of karate, planning to earn a black belt.

ZC's Drew Mack bowls his way to national event in Detroit, Michigan

by Brianna Davis

He began bowling when he was 12-years-old, and three years later, Drew Mack competed at a national competition.

Drew, a Zion Chapel sophomore, had bowled for fun for several years, but after receiving a bowling ball as a birthday gift from his aunt, he decided to join the Enterprise Youth Bowling League and began bowling more frequently. The bowling league often competes in tournaments, and Drew had the opportunity to compete in a singles tournament, the Northwest Florida Regionals in Fort Walton Beach, Florida, in March 2019. He won first place out of 70 competitors, allowing him to qualify for the national tournament.

In July, Drew and his family, along with six of his fellow bowling league teammates, made the nearly 900-mile trip to Detroit, Michigan to compete in the Junior Gold Bowling

Drew Mack

Championship, to compete in the 15u division. He finished 508 out of 715 competitors.

While traveling, Drew also had the opportunity to visit a number of places including Nashville, Louisville, Ann Arbor, Cincinnati, Gatlinburg, and Windsor, Ontario. One of his favorite stops was the Ark Encounter in Williamstown, Kentucky.

Drew was very appreciative for the opportunity to compete at this level and all the support he received from his family, friends, and community.

Justin Porterfield

Zion Chapel student competed in ASHAA all-star event for cross-country

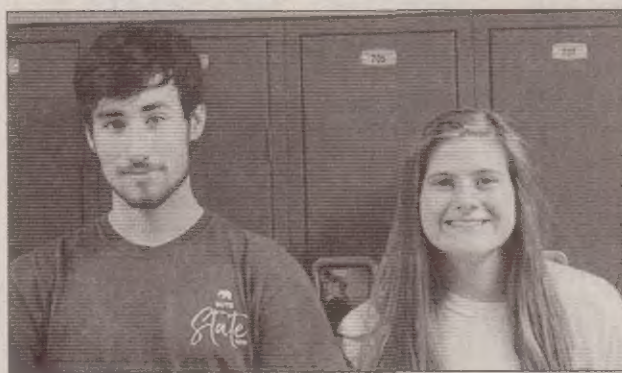

by Janna Miles

On July 17th, the Alabama High School Athletic Association hosted an All-Star Cross Country Run, which was comprised of all the top male competitors across the State of Alabama.

Zion Chapel's very own runner Justin Porterfield was selected from the district to run for the South. He was one out of ten runners for the South, and there were ten other runners for the North.

The race was held at AUM in Montgomery, and the participants ran at 7:30 in the morning with humid weather conditions. Porterfield said it was a humbling experience for him and described the run as enjoyable and fun.

Porterfield has been to state for the past two seasons, and finished first place this past season at sectionals.

Korin Jacobs and Janna Miles

University of Alabama. The event started on the 10th and went through the 14th.

During this 5-day trip, the girls learned the ends and outs of a government. They had the opportunity to run for a government position and set up a mock government. They attended a dance, a formal dinner, and they also competed against each other in fun games.

On Thursday the group took a trip to Huntington University. On the visit they had the chance to listen to Governor Kay Ivey speak and got to tour the Governor's house. The group visited The Legacy Museum to learn about the history of slavery and racism.

When asked about her experience, Janna Miles said she enjoyed meeting new friends and getting more insight about how the government works. She also has more educational opportunities including a higher chance to be accepted into colleges.

Overall both attendees enjoyed their time at The University of Alabama Boys and Girls State, and they are grateful for the opportunity.

ZC 10U softball team competed at World Series this summer

by Addie Killingsworth

Zion Chapel's 10U Traditional softball team won the State Title and competed in the World Series.

The "Alabama Angels" Competed in the World series in Louisiana on July 25 - 27. The Angels played against Georgia and South Carolina in Louisiana before being eliminated. The girls represented Zion Chapel and the state with grace and skill.

The young girls started off their regular season 18 and 3, with 16 girls. The girls practiced every Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and occasionally on Sunday afternoons. Head Coaches were Chris Hodge, and David Jordan.

Pitchers were Macilieghe Bragg and Caroline Jordan who pushed themselves and practiced hard throughout the season. The girls were chosen for All-stars and ended up with 12 girls on their World Series team.

Third baseman Hannah Herbert said one of her favorite things about this year's season was "being with her friends and enjoying her favorite sport."

She also said one of the biggest obstacles the team faced at the World Series was "being nervous and starting out the World Series tournament not swinging the bat but eventually building the teams confidence."

Meet the "REBEL Report" staff for Zion Chapel School

by Justin Porterfield

It's the beginning of the school year, a new chapter in your life.

Last year is gone and (likely) off your conscious; you're free to continue and dredge through the public education system. This year, however, is a little different. And, if you're reading this, you'll probably notice it. We now have a school paper!

Zion Chapel is almost like those schools you see on Disney Channel now, although we still are sorely lacking in musicals. Anyway, this article is dedicated to getting to know a little more about who are the guys writing all this stuff. We sincerely hope that you won't immediately stop reading after this and chuck it into your local garbage bin.

Junior Staff Members include: Raegan Bragg, Brianna Davis, Halee Deal, Makenna Faulk, Addie Killingsworth, Chloe Meadows, and sisters Emilia Stokes and Emilie

Stokes.

Senior Staff Members are: Stown Hussey, Janna Miles, Justin Porterfield, Brook Register and Emily Wise.

I suppose that about wraps it up, or at least for now. While I could go on for ages about every individual and their many talents, this article would be much longer; and likely much more boring as well. We'd like to thank all of you for taking the time to read our work and hope you continue to do so.

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson is now in his second full week of school and so far my little man has enjoyed everything he has been taught and loves all his teachers. I was a little leery about a third grader changing classes, but so far, so good, and I think it makes Lawson and all his classmates feel a little older to be able to walk in the halls and change rooms for different subjects. The school year is still young, but so far there are no complaints from my grandson or this 'ole granddaddy.

For what it is worth....

 The high school football season kicks off for area teams this week, and while all the games don't count, Elba and New Brockton will kickoff their schedules and will be looking to log a win against a solid opponent. Here is a look at this week's action:

 Elba will travel to Daleville and should have their hands full against the talented 2A Warhawks. The Tigers are expected to have one of their top defenses in years, and it may have to be early in the season until the youthful offense can get settled in. They do have a stable of explosive backs that can go the distance at any time, and while this will be just the first of many games, it should give Tiger fans a preview of what to expect in what has to be considered a rebuilding year.

 New Brockton will host 3A power Providence Christian and will have to play their best in their opener to have a chance at pulling off the upset. The Gamecocks should have a wide-open offensive attack that can put points on the scoreboard, but face an Eagles team that likes to run down hill, and the Gamecock defense will be facing an offense that likes to run the ball and win in the trenches. This is no doubt a very tough opener.

 Kinston will participate in a multiple team jamboree at Wicksburg and will definitely be the small dog in the fight. The Bulldogs will no doubt be more physical than in recent years and will take pride on defense, but this jamboree will do little but help the coaches get a last look at the players before the 'real' season kicks off next week. No matter what happens Friday night, Kinston fans should be patient and wait for the season opener.

 Brantley will meet cross-county rival Highland Home in a preseason contest and while the game doesn't count in the record books, it does give the winner bragging rights for the coming year. The Bulldogs are expected to be the favorites to win the region and have their fans talking state title, but games aren't won in social media or over a table at the Big/Little, and these Bulldogs have something to prove. This one should be interesting.

 Zion Chapel will head to Dothan to tangle with 3A power Houston Academy and this may be one of those games that the coaches say they just hope nobody gets injured. The Rebels have improved by leaps and bounds over the past two years. However, this one is one in which the Rebs may be simply outmanned.

 A quick look at the college ranks last week was filled with injury news out of both Alabama and Auburn. The Crimson Tide apparently lost another running back to an injury and is down to three backs the week before the season opener against Duke, and while that may sound bad, it will give the backs that are healthy a chance to get more carries and that is what they want. Over on the plains, injuries have slowed the Tigers at a couple of positions, but the big news is at quarterback where true freshman Patrick Nix is close to locking down the starting role. Freshmen qb's can be meat to veteran defenses in the SEC, and I hope the youngster is really ready to take charge, or else.

 Ye ole Polish Prognosticator dropped by Sunday morning and was shaking his head about the start of the season coming so early. He insisted when he was in school the season didn't start until Labor Day, and pointed to the calendar and what may be Elba's earliest start ever. He also griped about how it was impossible to predict the outcome of games when no one has even scrimmaged in practice, but did leave his picks for week one and said ready or not, let's go.

ELBA AT DALEVILLE

The Pea River felines head over to Camp Rucker for an early-season showdown against a flock of birds that roost just outside the gate. The felines may not be quite as frisky as in years past and will have to sharpen their claws if they hope to catch enough birds to call it a victory, but the guess here is that after a four-quarter battle the felines will limp back to the bus with one win on their belt.

ELBA 14 DALEVILLE 13

PROVIDENCE CH. AT NEW BROCKTON

The roosters from over near the bypass have been crowing in recent weeks about the upcoming season and will face perhaps their toughest opponent of the season in their opener against a flock of Eagles from over near the Circle City. While the roosters should be better than a year ago, these big 'ole birds may have a little too much to handle and the guess here is that the roosters will lose a few feathers.

Against 2A Daleville Warhawks

Elba Tigers ready for season opener

The Elba Tigers will kick off the 2019 high school football season on Friday night when they travel to Daleville to battle the 2A Daleville Warhawks.

Elba owns a lopsided 14-5 edge in the series with Daleville, won the last meeting back in 2017 by a score of 34-28 and has won four of the last five matchups in the series that began in 1978 and saw the Tigers win the first eight meetings.

The Tigers posted an 8-3 record last season in their first year in the Class 1A ranks and are picked in the 'Top 10' in the state in a preseason poll. However, they must replace one of the state's top performers in multi-talented Richmon Singletary as well as find a new starting quarterback, running backs and receivers.

Looking to replace the departed Singletary in the backfield will be a quartet of players with unlimited potential in Iverson Lane (Sr., 5-10, 170), Ja'quez Prince (Jr., 5-9, 170), Seth Ware (Sr., 5-8, 153) and Collin Harrison (Jr., 5-10, 180), while Prince and sophomore signal caller Carson Wise (So., 6-0, 170) will be called upon the lead the Elba offense at quarter-

New Brockton hosts Providence Christian in opener

The New Brockton Gamecocks will be hoping that a new coaching staff and a new winning attitude will pay dividends on Friday night when they kickoff the 2019 high school football season at home against 3A power Providence Christian.

New Brockton owns a 2-5 series record against the Eagles and lost last season's opener 35-10, a loss that snapped a two-game Gamecock winning streak in the series that dates back to 2010.

The Gamecocks return eight starters from an offense that averaged over 28 points per game a year ago, led by sophomore quarter-

While the Tigers may not put the ball in the air as much as in years past due to a massive offensive line, they do have a bevy of receivers to aim passes at in Nathan James (Jr., 5-8, 138), Dezmon Roberson (Sr., 6-2, 185), Peyton McCart (So., 6-1, 150), and Byron Burks (So., 5-7, 140).

While the Tiger coaches must find skill players to exploit opposing defenses, the offensive line appears to be the team's strong point, led by returning seniors Tom Ford (Sr., 6-2, 292), Isaac Watkins (Sr., 6-0, 267), Chandler Coppage (Sr., 5-10, 234) and Omarian Terry (Sr., 6-3, 242).

Elba fielded one of its best defenses in years last season and with seven starters back look for the defense to lead the way until the young offense can find its way. Leading the way on defense will be noseguard Tom Ford (Sr., 6-2, 292), linebacker Dezmon Roberson (Sr., 6-2, 185), linebacker Brandon Epps (Sr., 5-10, 164), linebacker Omarian Terry (Sr.,

6-3, 242), defensive back Seth Ware (Sr., 5-8, 153), defensive back Nathan James (Jr., 5-8, 138) and defensive back Iverson Lane (Jr., 5-10, 160). Others expected to see action on the defensive side include cornerback Byron Burks (So., 5-7, 140), linebacker Paxton Wise (So., 5-11, 175), defensive back Peyton McCart (So., 6-1, 150)linebacker Chrystyle Caldwell (So., 6-1, 208), defensive lineman Derrick Hill (Sr., 5-11, 180), defensive lineman Jaden Juarez (Jr., 5-7, 238), linebacker Collin Sauls (So., 5-8, 178) and defensive back JT Coleman (Fr., 5-11, 145).

The Daleville Warhawks finished strong last season and advanced to the second round of the 2A playoffs, and are expecting to start fast and finish fast this season as they have their sights set on a deep playoff run.

Leading the way for Daleville on offense will be the 1-2 punch of junior quarterback Peanut Bloodshaw (6-0, 185) and senior running back Jalen White (6-1, 195). Bloodshaw is a dual threat in the backfield as a runner and passer, junior defensive back Colton Marsh (6-0, 170) and a pair of sophomores in linebacker Andrew Cashin (5-10, 205) and defensive back CJ Wilkerson (5-7, 165).

Providence Christian has been competing in the AHSAA for only 13 seasons, but boasts a total of 10 while White developed into one of the state's best backs last season and rushed for almost 500 yards in just two playoff games.

The Warhawks will also be in good hands up front, where four starters return, including seniors tight-end Melvin Matthews (6-1, 200) and tackle Casey Moore (6-3, 260). Also returning to the 'o-line' are junior Myles Parris (5-10, 200) and sophomore Dylan Grant (6-0, 225).

The Daleville defense allowed over 26 points per game last season, but should be much more stingy this year with five starters back, including senior linemen Brian Serrano (5-9, 225) and Casey Moore (6-3, 260), senior linebacker Melvin Matthews (6-1, 200), senior defensive back Jalen White (6-1, 195) and junior rover Sincere McKenzie (5-6, 160).

Kickoff Friday night will be at 7:00 pm.

The Elba Junior Varsity football team will open its season Tuesday night, Aug. 27, in Brundidge taking on the Pike County JV Bulldogs. This game is set to start at 6 p.m.

winning seasons and last year reached the semifinals of the 3A playoffs, where it lost to eventual state champion Flomaton. The Eagles averaged over 40 points per game in rolling to 12 victories.

Kickoff at Gamecock Stadium is set for 7:00 pm.

E-CLUB

Aug. 22, is the annual "Meet the Tigers" event. The event will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the high school gym [it had previously been advertised to be at the football stadium but has been changed to the gym].

Prior to the start of Meet the Tigers, the E-Club is sponsoring a community supper for the football team, cheerleaders, band, and volleyball team. This meal will be served in the commons area [lunchroom] of the high school beginning at 5 p.m.

"We need side dishes and desserts supplied for our community meal for these athletes," Coppage said. "Anyone wanting to donate and items to this meal is welcomed to do so. The food will just need to be delivered to the lunchroom around 4:15 - 4:30 so we can get everything set up for the students."

Coppage said the E-Club would have a table set up at Meet the Tigers to take memberships from those wanting to join the club that night. Also, she said the club will have Elba script logo decals and Elba logo lanyards available for purchase at Meet the Tigers.

Also, Coppage said the sign up is underway for churches [or other organizations] interested in participating in the Feed the Tigers each Thursday night of the football season. She said this is need each Thursday night except next Thursday due to the community meal and the week of Homecoming in which another community meal is provided.

Football coach Pate Harrison added that the football players have to be fed every Friday afternoon prior to their game that night, and he said anyone wanting to help with that is welcomed to do so as well. He said the team will accept a prepared meal for Fridays [has to be at the school by 3 p.m. or monetary donations to help purchase food for the players].

Coppage has a sign up sheet for both Thursday night Feed the Tigers and for those interested in help with food for the team on Fridays.

"This is a lot for one person to take on and we rely on our supporters greatly," Harrison said. "All support is appreciated tremendously."

Harrison said it cost the football program anywhere from $200-250 per week on Fridays to feed the players, and that gets costly by the end of the season. That is why he is hoping for additional help from the community this year in making sure the players are fed well before their games on Friday nights.

Coppage also noted during Tuesday night's meeting that the E-Club works concessions for the junior high home football games and the Pee-Wee youth home football games. She said volunteers to help with this also are appreciated.

The E-Club will hold its next meeting Tuesday, Sept. 17, at 6 p.m. in the commons area of the high school.
